Looks like fun

One of the ways in which a lot of cards fall flat is that they try to say too much. If you are going to use a graphic in your design, it must be there for a reason. A good graphic should eliminate the need for anything other than your card from Jammin' DJS. This is a perfect example. One glance at the design instantly that this is an above average DJ service. The word "Jammin'" seems to be moving right across the back of the card. The two spotlights in the ground suggest lighting along with sound. It's a very clean design, but there's a lot of web information is easy find and Good ideas all the way around.

What else is there?

Boff's Entertainment Service in Gibsonsia, PA employs over twenty-five DJs. Along with their DJ service, Greg Boff and his wife are also the area planners for Taylor Reunion Services of Dallas, Texas. As a result, they not only score the typical mobile mix of receptions and parties, they also have a direct connection to the class reunion market. This opens the door for them to book house parties as well as the DJ. In addition, Boff's provides professional video services among its many offerings. Boff's also provides editing and insurance services. So, Boff's Entertainment Service is a one-stop shop for all your party needs.
